

ABSTRACT

A sun visor for motor vehicles consisting of a structural frame (5) formed by a recyclable plastic material injected into a mould, and a second material, also recyclable, which is compatible with the material used in the frame and which incorporates certain components of the final sun visor unit.